

KARAMA II journey in Syria

Enhancing the community resilience and economic empowerment through multi-sectorial assistance in NW Syria

Number of people reached

Multi-Purpose Cash Assistance –to Sudden shocks

1,359

7,672

Multi-Purpose Cash Assistance to the most vulnerable households

Winterization Support to Camps

30,144

969

Livelihood Support through Income generating activities

Livelihood support doesn't just create income it creates independence.

One of the participants in the Small Business Grants activity.

From her home in northwest Syria, Garoud, supports her three children while preparing to welcome a new baby. Through her tailoring work, she is turning opportunity into stability and independence.

“I am not only working for today I am building a better future for my children, and the one on the way.”

How Support Creates Lasting Change

Cash Assistance

Freedom to prioritize essential needs

Winter Support

Protection from extreme conditions

Livelihood Support

A path toward independence

Crisis → Support → Stability → Income → Independence

Welthungerhilfe in Syria works to foster long-term change through income-generating opportunities for the most vulnerable. By providing cash-based support, we help mitigate risks and strengthen community resilience

Mohammad Hajyoussef

Head of The Project - WHH

About us

Welthungerhilfe (WHH) is a German humanitarian organization working to end hunger and strengthen food security worldwide, combining emergency response with long-term development solutions.

SARD is a Syrian NGO focused on building resilience and self-reliance for conflict-affected communities, while promoting locally led humanitarian action.

Implemented by Welthungerhilfe (WHH) and SARD Funded by ECHO